

Tuff Enuff

(The Fabulous Thunderbirds)

I would walk ten miles on my hands and knees
Ain't no doubt about it baby, it's you I aim to please
I'd wrestle with a lion and a grizzly bear
It's my life baby but I don't care
Ain't that tough enough?
Ain't that tough enough?
Ain't that tough enough?
Ain't that tough enough?
For you baby I would swim the sea
Nothin' I'd do for you that's too tough for me
I'd put out a burnin' building with a shovel and dirt
And not even worry about getting hurt
Ain't that tough enough?
Ain't that tough enough?
Ain't that tough enough?
Ain't that tough enough?
I'd work twenty four hours, seven days a week
Just so I could come home and kiss your cheek
I'll love you in the mornin' and I'll love you at noon
I'll love you in the night and take you to the moon
Ain't that tough enough?
Ain't that tough enough?
Ain't that tough enough?
Ain't that tough enough?
I'd lay in a pile of burnin' money that I've earned
And not even worry about getting burned
I'd climb the Empire State, fight Muhammad Ali
Just to have you baby close to me
Ain't that tough enough?
Ain't that tough enough?
Ain't that tough enough?

"Tuff Enuff" is a song by the blues rock band the Fabulous Thunderbirds. It was written by the band's lead singer, Kim Wilson. The song was included on the album Tuff Enuff and was produced by Dave Edmunds.

Released as a single in 1986, "Tuff Enuff" peaked at number 10 on the Billboard Hot 100 chart and number four on the Billboard Mainstream Rock Tracks chart, and it reached the top 20 charts in other countries. It was ranked number 96 on VH1's "100 Greatest One Hit Wonders of the 80s".

It was the band's first single and has since become its best-known song. It also had an accompanying music video directed by Harry Lake.

The song was covered by Wynonna Judd for her 2000 album, New Day Dawning. In 2015, the song was performed by Dave Grohl and his band the Foo Fighters on Austin City Limits, with guest artists Gary Clark, Jr. and former Thunderbird Jimmie Vaughan.
